

Diagnostic Essay

Write a well-organized essay of at least 250 words on the following topic:

People are often judged based on their appearance. What conclusions do people often make based on someone's appearance? Are these judgments justified?

This is your opportunity to show off your essay-writing skills, so take your time. You may want to spend some time planning your essay on scratch or notebook paper before you begin. Set your paper up in MLA format, double space (skip lines), write in blue or black ink if possible, and use your best grammar, spelling, and punctuation.

Diagnostic Essay

Write a well-organized essay of at least 250 words on the following topic:

People are often judged based on their appearance. What conclusions do people often make based on someone's appearance? Are these judgments justified?

This is your opportunity to show off your essay-writing skills, so take your time. You may want to spend some time planning your essay on scratch or notebook paper before you begin. Set your paper up in MLA format, double space (skip lines), write in blue or black ink if possible, and use your best grammar, spelling, and punctuation.

Diagnostic Essay

Write a well-organized essay of at least 250 words on the following topic:

People are often judged based on their appearance. What conclusions do people often make based on someone's appearance? Are these judgments justified?

This is your opportunity to show off your essay-writing skills, so take your time. You may want to spend some time planning your essay on scratch or notebook paper before you begin. Set your paper up in MLA format, double space (skip lines), write in blue or black ink if possible, and use your best grammar, spelling, and punctuation.